Alabama Commission on Higher Education

Request for Proposals from Public Institutions for Developing
Digital Content related to the All in Alabama Campaign

Proposals due by September 26, 2022
Deliverables completed by December 15, 2022

I. PURPOSE AND OVERVIEW

The Alabama Commission on Higher Education (ACHE), the coordinating board for public higher education in Alabama, invites proposals from public postsecondary institutions (public universities and community/technical colleges) to develop digital content to support the All in Alabama campaign.

For its initial phase, the All in Alabama campaign will target current undergraduates at Alabama's public postsecondary institutions with content about living and working in Alabama after graduation. Results from surveys of undergraduates conducted in Spring 2021 and Spring 2022 indicate that a majority of students want to stay in Alabama, but their post-graduation plans are strongly influenced by career prospects and economic factors, followed by a sense of community and access to outdoor activities. This phase of the campaign aims at raising students' awareness of job opportunities in the state and showcasing the level of talent at Alabama's public higher education institutions to prospective employers.

II. INSTITUTIONAL GRANT OPPORTUNITY

ACHE seeks to partner with public institutions who have academic program offerings in graphic design, advertising, digital/multimedia communication, marketing, and/or related fields. Grants of up to $5000 are available to support work-based/experiential learning opportunities for undergraduate students in developing digital content to be used as part of the All in Alabama campaign. Grantees must be affiliated with a campus unit, such as an academic department, student-led design agency, student professional organization, or administrative office within an institution, as grants cannot be awarded to individuals. ACHE anticipates making 8-10 awards under this grant.

III. GRANT DELIVERABLES

Grantees will engage undergraduates in designing and producing digital content to be used as part of the All in Alabama campaign. Deliverables may include videos, images, graphics, posters, social media posts, influencer engagement, software or web-based applications, or other collateral materials that can be posted, amplified, and otherwise published to enhance the All in Alabama digital campaign. As undergraduates are the primary target audience for the campaign, ACHE invites institutional partners to recommend deliverables beyond what is imagined here.

College grads, this is your way in.

If you're graduating college soon, you'll only be asked "What's next?" a bazillion times from now until graduation. You can search far and wide for the answer, or you can find it all right here in Alabama. Career opportunities in tech. In engineering. In nursing. In manufacturing. In rocket-ing. All the careers of tomorrow. Alabama's lower cost of living, fun-filled cities, breathtaking green spaces, and the space to rise fast in your career are here, too.

So that leaves just one question: ARE YOU IN?
